

FREE LITERATURE

Automated Sample Prep. A new 18-page brochure from Waters Chromatography (Milford, MA) describes its MilliLab™ Workstation, which automates tasks including filtration, solid-phase extraction, liquid/liquid extraction, evaporation, dilution, mixing, and gas purging.

Write in 702 on Reader Service Card

Immunodiagnos-tics. The Binding Site (Edgbaston, U.K.) offers its 1990 catalog, listing over 400 new immunodiagnostic kits and reagents, including an expanded range of antisera and conjugates to mouse and rat proteins.

Write in 708 on Reader Service Card

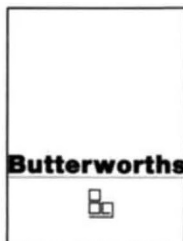

Spectrometry Book. "Concepts, Instrumentation, and Techniques in Inductively Coupled Plasma Atomic Emission Spectrometry," available from Perkin-Elmer (Norwalk, CT), gives information on the concept of atomic spectroscopy, methods and applications, and instrument maintenance.

Write in 705 on Reader Service Card

Detectors. The latest issue of Groton Technology's (Waltham, MA) newsletter, Gleanings, includes articles on the importance of spectral resolution in photodiode array HPLC detectors and the use of power conditioning equipment to protect instruments.

Write in 704 on Reader Service Card

Biotech Books. A catalog from Butterworth Publishers (Stoneham, MA) features descriptions of Protein Engineering and other new titles in its Biotechnology Series.

It also lists the company's five international journals relevant to biotech; sample copies are available.

Write in 703 on Reader Service Card

Research Products. International Biotechnologies (IBI, New Haven, CT) offers a 1990 catalog featuring products for molecular biology and protein biochemistry research—biologicals, reagents, instruments, film products, and software.

Write in 701 on Reader Service Card

Immunoconjugates. Nordic Immunological Laboratories (Capistrano Beach, CA) has released a set of three technical bulletins on polyclonal immunoconjugates, their use in ELISA and histochemical procedures, and the selection of ELISA reagents.

Write in 707 on Reader Service Card

HPLC. Insights into HPLC, with news and views on bioanalysis, is now available from Pharmacia LKB Biotechnology (Piscataway, NJ). The current issue reviews protein structural evaluations and offers advice on coping with noisy baselines in UV detection.

Write in 712 on Reader Service Card

Neuroendocrine Reagents. The Biogenesis (Yeomans Way, U.K.) 1990 catalog of immunochemicals for use in neuroendocrine research includes antigens and antibodies to a range of neuroactive substances from acetylcholine to ubiquitin.

Write in 709 on Reader Service Card

Chemicals. The 1990 Sigma (St. Louis, MO) general catalog lists more than 25,000 biochemicals, organic chemicals, and related products, with 1,700 items added since the 1989 edition. Major groupings include bioactive peptides, immunochemicals, molecular biology, and tissue culture products.

Write in 706 on Reader Service Card

Enzymes. Biocatalysts (Ponypridd, U.K.) makes available a catalog with updates on a new range of immobilized lipases and diagnostic enzymes.

Also available is the latest issue of its newsletter, which introduces a new microbial ADH and other enzyme products.

Write in 710 on Reader Service Card

Microscope/Micro-manipulator. Wild Leitz (Rockleigh, NJ) has a color brochure outlining the capabilities of its inverted microscopes and micromanipulators for applications in in vitro fertilization, microinjection, and electrophysiology experiments.

Write in 711 on Reader Service Card