The correct title of Figure 4 should read:

“Average effect sizes across regions of interest showing significant changes in the EP and SZ groups.”

This correction does not affect the scientific integrity or conclusions of the article. The original article has been corrected.
