Retraction of: Scientific Reports <https://doi.org/10.1038/s41598-025-96274-2>, published online 04 April 2025

The Editors have retracted this Article.

After publication, concerns were raised that images had been duplicated between panels in Figure 4. The Editors requested all original data underlying the study and found that the metadata for Figure 4A indicated the time course of the siRNA wound-healing assays was inaccurately reported. The Editors no longer have confidence in the validity of this Article.

All Authors agree with the retraction and its wording.
